Field Crop Grower...

Five reasons for you to attend one of the Southeast Pennsylvania Crops Conferences:

- You can obtain up to five category and two core pesticide update credits by attending a daytime conference
- Research-based information presented by local and regional experts
- Diverse array of timely topics on an agenda that allows you to choose which sessions you wish to attend
- Opportunity to interact with industry, extension, agricultural agencies and other growers in one location
- Three locations for your convenience

Penn State College of Agricultural Sciences research and extension programs are funded in part by Pennsylvania counties, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.
